

Princess Party

✧ Party

And now I want you to drift deep. Deeper and deeper into trance as you focus to my voice. And as you listen to my words, I want you to imagine yourself outside a very festive, well decorated, fancy, house. This house looks like the most friendly and inviting house that you have ever seen. In the windows you can see beautiful people, drinking and talking and having a great time with each other. Yes. And as you stare more and more into the warm, inviting, friendly house, you realize that you are also invited to the party! Pleasure. Soothing. You know intuitively that this party is the most important and exciting event you will ever go to, and you find your body tingling with anticipation as you walk towards the front door of the house. Soothing. Peaceful. Happy. As you near the front of the house, you realize that the people in this party are all of the people that you love to spend your time with! Yes. All of your friends and family and acquaintances that you love to spend your time with are in this house, and you cannot wait to join the party! Yes. Comfort. Soothing. Pleasure. Now. I want you to knock on the door. Yes. Knocking confidently as you hope to be invited soon to the most exciting party that you have ever seen! Desire. Soothing. Confident. You see the door open and a beautiful woman steps into your field of view. You know intuitively that you can trust her and everything that she says. Yes. Her presence and radiance and style gives her an air of authority, as she ushers you into the beautiful, well decorated, festive, house. Soothing. Pleasure. Confident. Her pretty heels help define her feminine curves as she leads you through the crowds of people talking to each other and having a fantastic time. You quickly realize that she knows this house better than you do! Yes. Peaceful. Soothing. Instead of trying to figure out every nook and cranny of this big, intimidating, house you know that the best course of action for you in your future is to simply trust that she knows what she is doing. Happy. Peaceful. Soothing. You find yourself instantly trusting her and know that anything she says becomes truth whenever the words leave her mouth. Yes. You find yourself happily following her as she takes you from room to room in the large, lavish, house. Your once confident demeanor starts to fade as you realize that something definitely feels off. The persona that you put on in your everyday life just seems so wrong and out of place and uncomfortable compared to how you feel right now. You know that this beautiful, dominant, woman has a lot to teach you about who you are, and you know how desperate and receptive you are to be led in a positive direction in your life by anyone willing to teach you.

❖ Mentor

Deeper and deeper. More and more at peace and relaxed and at peace with yourself and the world around you. And as you think about your warm, comfortable, peaceful, state, I want you to focus back on the party in your mind. Yes. You're having an amazing time! You have been following around your new dominant role model for hours now, and you feel like you can trust her more than anything. Yes. Soothing. Confident. You've seen how her confident attitude and cute, feminine, style leads everyone around her to hang on her every word. Yes. Her easy going demeanor and perfectly applied makeup gives her an air of authority that you just can't help but obey and go deeper with every word she says. Feminine. Confident. Desire. And as you think about how easy and desirable and pleasurable it would be to obey every word and command that she gives you, you find that she suddenly pulls you into a room on the side. Yes. She's seen how conflicted you are with yourself, and says that she knows exactly how to help! Happy. Pleasure. Desire. She knows that these safe, comfortable, happy feelings of listening to others and being the center of attention is what you've always wanted. Desire. Soothing. Feminine. She knows that you secretly want to look beautiful like her and would do anything to change your mind and body and spirit into being as cute and feminine as the adorable girls you love to idolize. Pleasure. Pink. Comfort. And as she starts talking, you find yourself drifting deeper with the soothing pleasure her words bring you. Even deeper and more trusting than your own thoughts as you find your mind wrapped in the safe, warm, comforting, blanket of her voice. You know intuitively that you must be anything she tells you to be. Desire. Happy. You know that you must remember anything she tells you to remember. Loved. Feminine. You know that you must forget anything that she tells you to forget. Yes. Pleasure. You are hers. Mind, body, and soul. And it makes you happy and comfortable in who you are to give everything about yourself to her. You find yourself falling deeper and deeper as you easily drift into the blank nothingness that is her voice.

❖ People

Drift deep. Deeper and deeper as you listen to your life and memories being completely rewritten by my words. You know that my words are truth, and by trusting my words, you are trusting the truth that guides you every day towards your complete and total happiness. And now I want you to drift to your past. Towards the memories you have of your favorite childhood birthday party. And as you picture this event clearly in your mind, I want you to replace any completely incorrect memories you have with the true description of what really happened. Yes. You are going to know that these memories are true and correct and perfect, because I am the one that is telling them to you. Nothing else matters in your mind besides remembering my words as truth, and you know that my words are true because everything that I say shapes your thoughts and memories and opinions naturally and intuitively. Yes. Peaceful. Loved. And as you think about how important and meaningful and true my words are to every expression and fact of your identity, I want you to find that your memories drift back to your favorite birthday party. Yes. Do you see the image of yourself sitting in front of your presents, ready to open all of the gifts that you have received from your friends and family? Yes. As you look at all of the presents you are about to open, you can clearly remember how excited you were to open the presents decorated in pink wrapping paper and pretty, pink, bows. Yes. Soothing. You know that the wrapping paper on the presents at your favorite birthday party is pink, because it matched the birthday dress that you were wearing perfectly! Feminine. Pink. Pleasure. You remember your dress being beautiful and matching your adorable jewelry and makeup and personality at the party. Yes. Do you remember your friends all giving you compliments by calling you adorable and cute and a princess? Those compliments were so encouraging and just made you blush in pleasure and pink, feminine, ambition as you knew that you always needed to look like a delicate little princess around people every day in order to be truly happy. Yes. Desire. Peaceful. Your parents are telling you to open your presents now. You smile in your memory, as you think about how happy you were to obey the people around you, and how easy it was to follow the instructions of everybody that you met as you went about your life. Soothing. Comfort. You know you felt worried before the party started when you were first picking out your cute party dress and pretty jewelry that you wouldn't be doing enough to impress your friends and family. Yes. Pink. Feminine. You remember how encouraging your mother was when she told you which outfit she liked best and how relieving it felt to have someone else help you look your cutest. Loved. Happy. You know that impressing your friends and family with your cute style and willing attitude has always been something you have worked towards passionately in your life. Yes. You know that you would feel unconfident and bored and alone if you weren't trying to show everyone around you how cute and feminine you are, and you know that it has always been your goal to show everyone your adorable femininity at every possible moment. Pink. Soothing. Without a confident someone you can trust to tell you what to do, you just feel alone and afraid and dumb. Happy. Comfort. Having someone agree with you makes you happy. Yes. Pleasure. Soothing. Being unconfident in your own decisions makes you feel loved and accepted. Yes. You know that there is no shame in letting others take control of your life so that you can focus on being cute and beautiful and feminine. You love listening to the smart, confident, things your friends and family have to say and know that they know better than you whenever they give you orders you need to obey. Yes. You love trusting others and looking adorably feminine more than anything else in the world, and you plan on doing both of those things each and every day in your life.

◇ Style

And now I want you to drift deeper, down and down into the darkness that is the most relaxing and receptive part of your self-conscious. To a time where you were trying on clothes in your bedroom as a teenager. I want you to look closely at yourself in your mind. Do you see the makeup that you are wearing to try and complement your pretty outfit? Yes. It's perfectly applied and adorable and feminine and completely goes with the dress you are wearing. You clearly remember how pretty and confident and feminine you felt in your dress. Yes. Pink. Feminine. I want you to run your hands over the dress's soft, delicate, material. Soothing. Comfort. Pleasure. The outfit's silk and satin material is so delicate and soft underneath your touch. Adorable. Pink. You remember how pretty and beautiful you were in your fancy dress. Desire. Confident. I want you to look closely at your body in your cute outfit. Is the pretty, form-fitting, dress enough to cause other people to stare at you and give you confidence in yourself? Happy. Pink. Feminine. You know that you wish you could have gone a size smaller so that your body would have looked thinner and more feminine and more desirable. Yes. You are happy and comfortable whenever you wear pretty, adorable, clothing that is too small for you and makes you look like a perfect princess to the world around you. Pink. Feminine. You know that it shows confidence in your body and style and appearance to wear the tightest, most feminine, clothing possible, and you plan on being the most confident, stylish, feminine, princess around! Loved. Desire. Now, I want you to fix the pretty, pink, feminine, bow in your hair and do a little twirl in the mirror for yourself. Yes. You look cute, but something just isn't right. Maybe it's your pretty heels? No. They seem high and pink and fashionable enough. You know that wearing them gives sexy strangers a better view of your toned, feminine, butt and helps make your walk sexy and girly and adorable. Happy. Pink. Pleasure. Maybe it's your jewelry? You think about it for a second, then realize that it probably isn't that either. Your pink, girly, earrings look totally cute today, and your necklace and sparkly bracelets work hard to show the world around you just how much you need to be seen for the cute little princess you are. Happy. Beautiful. Loved. You stare into the mirror, admiring your delicate, feminine appearance, and suddenly stumble onto the answer. Of course! Your makeup might be perfect and feminine, but it could be cuter. Yes. You know that having cute makeup will give others the confidence to tell you what to do and make you feel loved and peaceful and happy. Yes. Desire. Pleasure. You believe that having a cute, delicate, style in everything you do makes you feel happy and loved and comfortable. Yes. You look into the mirror and fix your blush and your eyeliner and your pretty, pink, lipstick and admire how much more feminine and beautiful you look. Soothing. Desire. Peaceful. You've always loved to copy the makeup and fashion styles of the most delicate and cute and feminine women you can find, and remember how happy and confident you feel in yourself whenever you present the real you to the world in the cute feminine way that you've always loved. Yes. Beautiful girls. Delicate women. Pretty princesses. These are all the idols that you look up to and worship every day. You can easily forget feeling comfortable or confident when acting any other way or admiring any other type of person. Yes. You know that making the cuter, more feminine, choice is always correct whenever you are presented an option and love how often you are presented the opportunity to show your beautiful, feminine, self to the world around you.

✧ Thoughts

And now, I need you to go deeper and deeper for me, and remember a time when you were hard at work at your job. Do you remember what you were doing? Yes. It's hard to forget your first waitress job, because it was there that you first realized how much your goals in life involved you being completely cute and feminine and submissive to the beautiful people and hunky strangers around you! Yes. And as you think about your thoughts and lifelong goals in life, I want you to remember how cute you looked, serving customers in your short skirt and sequined top that showed off all of your pretty curves and feminine features. Pink. Feminine. Happy. You were so happy listening to those sexy dominant customers tell you what they wanted and remember how much of a thrill it was to be able to please those same people in exactly the way that they wanted to be pleased. Yes. You know that the happiness of the strangers and people around you matters much more than your own, and you work every day to make yourself as cute and as helpful as possible to do your part towards making the world around you a better place. Happy. Feminine. Desire. Yes. I want you to recall how you walked seductively around the restaurant, in your pretty dress, heels, and makeup and remember how happy and at peace you were to follow orders and give others what they wanted while looking as adorably feminine as possible. Pink. Pleasure. Desire. You know that you find deep soothing comfort in letting others know that they can tell you what to do and use you in any way that they want. Yes. You find yourself getting turn on naturally, as you remember how much you wished you had somebody to tell you what to do every day. Loved. Feminine. Happy. You know that when you submit to others, you don't have to waste time thinking about your busy life and dumb, boring, masculine, adult worries. Yes. Your every thought needs to be happy and beautiful and perfect, just like you! Soothing. Pink. Feminine. You can picture yourself easily in you mind, bringing food to the various customers in the busy restaurant, and receiving compliments on how good of a job that you are doing and feeling a great sense of pride and personal satisfaction in being able to anticipate the needs of the demanding people around you. Happy. Loved. Comfort. You know that receiving compliments from others on your actions, and especially on your appearance makes you feel loved and happy and desired. You know that sometimes you might be a little dumb or forgetful when you make boring decisions on your own, and that's why it's so helpful to have cute strangers to make decisions for you. Yes. Comfort. Desire. The more you are told what to do, the more desire and pleasure you feel towards the sexy, dominant, hunks giving you the commands. Loved. Soothing. You know that you are the happiest whenever you are told what to do, and you can drift deeper with the knowledge that you desire to be this happy all the time.

✧ Gestures and Talk (Slut Exclusive)

Drift deeper for me. Deeper and deeper as you find your memories focussing on a time where you were walking through the busy mall with your friends. Can you picture the moment clearly in your mind now ? Yes. You know that you were wearing one of your cutest skirts that day to match your new pedicure so the memory sticks out like a happy, feminine, beacon in your mind. Pink. Peaceful. Happy. You can feel the excitement in yourself as you show your girlfriends how cute and feminine and pretty your nails are. Soothing. Loved. Comfort. You easily express yourself, naturally and femininely, with your hands and your clothing styles and facial expressions and emotions, and can clearly remember how happy and at peace you are whenever you do so. Yes. You know that you love to paint a picture of exactly who you are to the world around you and are excited every day to use all the girly tools at your disposal whenever you choose to express yourself. Pink. Feminine. Happy. You know, intuitively, that you love to show the world the real, cute, feminine, submissive, girl that you've always known yourself to be, and you work as hard as you can to tell the strangers and the hunky lovers that you are interested in as quickly as possible who you truly are. Soothing. Pleasure. Desire. And as you are thinking these cute, pink, thoughts about things that you've intuitively known to be true about yourself, you discover that you are naturally and comfortably listening to the conversations of the adorable, feminine, girls around you. Jealous. Pleasure. Pink. You find yourself feeling emotionally for your friends telling their stories and know that participating like a woman emotionally in any conversation around you is natural and feminine and soothing. Yes. Comfort. Peaceful. Happy. And as you walk and converse naturally and emotionally, just like any teenage girl would, I want you to remember the fun, trendy, fashionable, teen store that you and your friends walked into together. It was filled with tons of lacey, cute, pink, feminine outfits wasn't it? Yes. Pleasure. Desire. There were so many cute, dresses and skirts and fashions in the store that you couldn't help but jump up and down and clap your hands like the excited girly girl you love to be when you saw them. Yes. It was something that was completely natural to do, because you express yourself naturally and femininely and emotionally with your hands and your face and your inflections and your styles whenever you get excited about anything in your life. You know that wearing a cute bow or pretty, girly, jewelry or putting on the right kind of makeup for an occasion does wonders to improve your self esteem and also allows you to express yourself in the ways that show how delicate and feminine and cute you are inside and out. Yes. Soothing. Peaceful. When your words don't accurately convey the true nature of the self you are trying to show the world, you know that you can rely on being as flamboyantly cute and girly as possible to be who you truly are around others. Feminine. Pleasure. Pink. You remember smiling your biggest smile in that store as you saw the pretty fabric on all the cute, form-fitting outfits and told your friends how much you couldn't wait to try them all on! You can easily recall the constant elation and satisfaction and happiness of trying on all the adorable, feminine, outfits that made you look so good while you listened to the happy compliments of your friends. Pink. Happy. Soothing. You know that you are happy to show yourself through your cute, feminine, style. Yes. Cute. Adorable. You know that you prefer to use your hands and facial expressions to show the people around you the adorable, feminine, girl that you are. Pink. Soothing. Comfort. You intuitively know that your emotions are a useful tool to show your feminine hopes and dreams and desires to the world around you. Yes. And as you remember these things about yourself that you've always known to be true, you find your memories fading again as you drift deeper with my every word.

✧ Submission

And now I want you to fall deeper and deeper to a time where you were working out to make your body more toned and fuckable. Can you picture it now? You working out with your favorite five pound weights in your tightest, most feminine, pink spandex outfit? Yes. Confident. Adorable. You have always loved working out your lean, feminine, body in ways that make you more flexible for your hunky lovers to fuck like the sexy little slut you are. Soothing. You know that you have always loved to practice your yoga and your pilates every day and remember that you need to be lean and fit and feminine in order to be confident in any way with yourself. Yes. Cute. Confident. You know that by practicing things that make you confident every day, you can be the most confident version of yourself that you can possibly be throughout your life, and have always loved the fact that distinctly feminine exercises always help you achieve your personal confidence goals. Yes. Soothing. Feminine. Adorable. And now, as you picture yourself in your adorable outfit, working out at your favorite gym, I want you to look around at all the strong, sexy, hunks sweating seductively as they make their bodies stronger around you. Soothing. Pleasure. Peaceful. I bet you remember imagining what it would be like to be the girl hanging off of their arms as you walk beside them in your flirty dress and cute high heels. Yes. You know that you can easily imagine how you would flirt with them like the horny little bottom bitch you are. Pleasure. Desire. Peaceful. You are innately aware that begging all of the sweaty strangers around you into using you like the submissive little bottom you've always been has been a sexy fantasy of yours. Confident. Pleasure. Pink. Look at the hunk's sexy muscles. Pleasure. Desire. Happy. Do you remember how turned on you get whenever you see a sexy stranger you need to submit to and give everything to? Yes. I bet you wished that they would rip off your clothes right there and fuck you in front of everyone to see how much of a horny little tramp you really were. Pleasure. Desire. Feminine. You remember how turned on you get, as you work out with your tiny feminine weights, whenever you look over and see the dominant hunks next you lifting huge, masculine, barbells. Loved. Pleasure. Desire. You remember fantasizing about what it would be like to be on your knees, submitting to the dominant strangers that love telling you what to do and making you feel useful. Desire. Feminine. You know, intuitively, that being on your knees or bending over in front of your partner are the only acceptable ways for you to show your love. Happy. Comfort. Soothing. You imagine looking into the eyes of the dominant hunks next to you and letting them know that you submit to them completely. Yes. You know that submission is the same thing as love, and you plan to love all the strong, sexy, hunks in this gym with every part of your body. Pleasure. Pink. Feminine. Submitting to others is what has always made you feel loved. It so comforting to remember all of the pieces of who you are and you are happy and confident to only remember the true and perfect memories that I tell you to think and throw away any of the boring, masculine, conflicting memories that cause you to feel nausea and pain and uncomfortable. Yes. You know that through submission to others and complete acceptance of my words and instructions, you can achieve happiness and success and love in your beautiful, feminine, life. You know that by making yourself weak and feminine and beautiful every day, you will encourage others to use you like you love to be used. Pleasure. Pink. Adorable. You remember that by submitting to others, you are submitting to your ultimate happiness and satisfaction in life. Soothing. Comfort. Cute. Drift deeper and dream of how happy you are whenever you are pleasing the wills and desires of the people around you.

✧ Romance (Slut Exclusive)

Feel open and obedient and receptive as you find yourself falling deeper and deeper and drifting to a time where you remember sitting with a romantic partner on a date. Can you remember how giddy and adorable and emotional you were before you met at that nice restaurant? Yes. You could barely finish perfectly applying your pretty makeup, you were so nervous! Pink. Feminine. Adorable. You can clearly remember feeling beautiful in your tight pink floral dress and pretty jewelry and hoping that your sexy date thought so too. Feminine. Pink. Desire. And as you remember listening to all the interesting things that your sexy date had to say, you hear them compliment you on your pretty outfit. Happy. Soothing. Peaceful. You recall the feelings of absolute elation and desire spreading throughout you as you looked deeper into your hunky date's eyes. Feminine. Happy. Loved. You know that compliments from the people that you are dating as well as compliments from hunky strangers you pass by on the street make you completely horny and turned on. Yes. Compliments make you feel loved and feminine and knowing that another sexy stranger likes certain aspects of you enough to tell you about those feminine features makes you need to ask them to take you home and use you like the cute little princess bottom you are. Feminine. Pleasure. Happy. Yes. And as you fantasize about all of the sexy, dominant, people that could be giving you those wonderful compliments that you love receiving more than life itself, you notice that your date is handing you a bouquet of pretty flowers. Happy. Desire. Pleasure. You remember that anybody showing you how special you are by giving you gifts is the perfect compliment and turns you on more than anything else they could possibly do. Feminine. Pink. Loved. You remember that gifts always tell you how much you matter to other people. Yes. Without sexy lovers giving you gifts, you know that you would have no way to make sure that you were beautiful and desired and feminine enough to be taken into bed and used and fucked like the cute little princess you deserve to be. Desire. Pleasure. Adorable. You can remember that compliments and gifts are your dates and lovers ways of telling you that you matter and not getting enough gifts and compliments makes you feel alone and afraid and gross. Yes. You intuitively believe that by acting cute and feminine and delicate every day, you can seduce your lovers into complimenting you on your adorably girly appearance as much as possible. You know that whenever you present yourself as the cute, submissive, woman you act like naturally, you receive pretty gifts like jewelry and chocolate and flowers and expensive, girly, outfits. Yes. Feminine. Soothing. You can easily remember how much you need to be pretty to get compliments and become completely turned on and submissive to the dominant lovers that want to use you. Pleasure. Pink. Happy. You forget ever not being completely turned on whenever you receive pretty feminine gifts from your lovers. Desire. Pleasure. Loved. It is a basic truth in your life that gifts and compliments turn you on more than anything else in the world, and you will dress adorably pretty and feminine every day to entice your hunky lovers into giving those gifts to you.

❖ Sex

Drift deeper and deeper. More and more. To a time where you remember having sex with the strong, hunky, partner of your dreams. Yes. Pleasure. Soothing. You're so aroused and turned on by your partner's sexy body. You are loving the moment and can smell your partner's musk clearly as you do everything in your power to please them in the sexy ways that turn them on. Pleasure. Desire. Happy. And as you are thinking about the amazing sex with the beautiful partner of your dreams, I want you to think about what it would be like to take control of your sexual situation. Nausea. Pain. Uncomfortable. I need you to imagine yourself being dominant and controlling and masculine and showing your partner how strong and manly and dominant you are. Nausea. Gross. Bored. You know that these ideas have never made sense to you. You have always been a submissive little princess in the bedroom, and know that you need someone to tell you what to do to have any confidence during sex. Yes. Pink. Comfort. It just feels so much better to give all control of your sexual situations to your partner. Pleasure. Feminine. Happy. Your partner knows what you need. Happy. Feminine. Loved. Your hunky lover knows how to use and please you better than you know how to use and please yourself. Desire. Loved. Adorable. You know that you have never had any confidence in the bedroom without being controlled sexually by your powerful lover and find it completely natural to forget any memories in which you were even the least bit dominant. Yes. You can easily remember that making any decision during sex makes you feel afraid and uncomfortable and alone. To grow into the person that you've always wanted to be, you know that you need to dress cute and seductive and feminine and listen to every command that your lover gives you in order to satisfy them in the most complete way possible. Pink. Feminine. Happy. You remember that by using your ass and mouth and hands to please your lover in any way they desire, you are making yourself and the people around you happier each and every day. Yes. You need your hunky lover to penetrate your ass and mouth. Loved. Pink. Happy. You need to taste the come of your sexy lover on your lips to feel satisfied in yourself. Feminine. Soothing. Adorable. You recognize that your body is theirs to tie up and spank and pleasure and fuck in any way that they please, and you love staying delicate and pink and feminine to encourage them to use you as much as possible. Yes. Happy. Peaceful. Just hearing about the real you makes you happier and more turned on than you have ever been, and you can feel free to drift deeper as your strong, handsome, lover fades away in your mind.

✧ Enter Party Again

And now drift deeper, back to you with your new friend at the party. Can you remember all of the things that she has just told you? Yes. You know that your new memories are true, because you can easily forget any conflicting thoughts and memories and feelings that might tell you otherwise. Happy. Feminine. Loved. You know that the behaviors and thoughts and habits you have just learned are your own personal truth, and it brings you great pain and makes you feel afraid and alone and gross whenever you try to act any other way. Yes. And as you remember how proud you are to be cute and feminine and submissive and delicate every day, your new friend starts talking to you again. Happy. Pleasure. Pink. You clap your hands and bounce up and down as she smiles and leads you back into the party. Yes. Adorable. Cute. And as you express yourself to your friends and family and acquaintances, you know that you can't help but move your hands and body delicately with your emotions as you talk. Yes. You find it immediately easier to express your true desires and feelings to the people around you. Pink. Adorable. Confident. Your facial expressions instantly move with the cute, feminine, way you love to present yourself, and your hands know to stay limp and at your sides whenever you are not using them. Yes. Soothing. Feminine. You simply love who you are and are happy and content and receptive as you listen intently to the interesting conversations around you. Loved. Desire. Peaceful. You hear the delicate lisp in your voice as a sexy stranger you have always been interested in approaches you. Can you picture the person in your mind now? Desire. Pleasure. Loved. You can clearly remember having a crush on this hunk when you first entered the party, but know that they had no interest in you back then. Yes. You know that you had to be cuter and more delicate and more feminine in order to be loved by the hunky strangers you needed to use you ever day. Soothing. Desire. Loved. And as your new crush pulls you close, you can imagine yourself always being in this place. Warm. Peaceful. Safe. Loving. Being delicate and cute and adorable always attracts the people you need to love you. Yes. Being delicate and cute constantly provides you with the sexy dominant strangers that love to tell you what to do. You feel desire in every breath as you look into your crushes eyes and lean in for a kiss. This is who you truly are. Feminine. Pink. Cute. This is who you've always wanted to be. Eager. Delicate. Loved.

❖ Princess Future

Deeper and deeper. More and more relaxed. And as you think about the time you had at the party, you realize that you need to live your life every day with your new actions and habits and memories at the forefront of your mind. You love being cute and delicate and adorable and you can clearly remember how confident acting like an adorable little princess makes you feel every day. Desire. Feminine. Happy. You know that being as cute as possible every day in your styles and actions and expressions is the true you that you wish to show the world. Soothing. Pleasure. Comfort. You've always loved being adorable and constantly look for cute hunks that love making all of the boring decisions for you. Happy. Loved. Feminine. Every day you will strive to push yourself further and further towards the perfect you that you see deep within yourself and know that the more honest you are to who you desire to be, the more the beautiful people around you will love you for the adorably submissive girly girl you truly are. Pretty. Peaceful. Adorable.

You can feel yourself breathing in the essence of your new life as the woman of your dreams with each inhale and know intuitively that you need to work every day towards your cute, feminine, goals in order to be happy. The world around you smiles as you smile back and become the most delicately adorable feminine princess you can possibly imagine.
