

A Long December

A long December full of family and cheer
Somehow, this year will be better than the last
Putting up a tree so tall its top brushes the ceiling
The Holiday season is always such a blast

And it's one more night of advent candles
And it's one more night of lighting up the tree
I heard you may not come home for Christmas
But just remember how we'll sing

Falalala fa la la la la la la laaaaaa

The smell of hot cocoa in winter
And the feeling that there's sure a lot of oysters in the feast of the seven fish
The way mom makes it fills up the entire house
That smell of Christmas eve it is my christmas wish

And it's one more night of nog and carols
And watching home alone and love actually
I heard you may not come home for Christmas
But just remember how we'll sing
(falala)

Waited in my bed was up way past two AM
Waiting for the clopping of all nine reindeer
But they don't land until you breathe a little slower Dream of sugarplums let your eyelids droop a little lower

A long December full of family and cheer
Somehow, this year will be better than the last
Putting up a tree so tall its star brushes the ceiling
The Holiday season is always such a blast

And it's one more night waiting for Santa
And it's one more night snuggling with your family
I heard you may not come home for Christmas
But just remember how we'll sing

Falalala fa la la la laaaaa santa's sleigh
