

Elon Bought My Social Network!

A one-page RPG about being a small creator, by NightEyes DaySpring

You're a small creator and Elon has bought the company that hosts your core social media presence. Quick, create as much new content as you can and attract your fans to a new site before he destroys your social network!

Roll a d20, add Elon's current attack power to the result, and see what happens on the site that day, and how quickly you can migrate your audience to a new site to keep up your social media presence. Start with 5 fan support, 1 momentum and set Elon's Attack power to 0. You successfully save all your fans if your momentum reaches 10. If your fan support hits zero, or Elon's attack power reaches 5, the game ends. Check your momentum against the scoring chart to see how you did.

D20 Result	What's Going on With Your Social Network	What Happens
20+	Elon seriously made stuff worse, and people are leaving the site in droves.	Lose 2 fan support Elon gains 1 attack power
15-19	Elon's messing around with user verification, again. Users are complaining.	Lose 1 fan support Gain 1 momentum Elon gains 1 attack power
11-14	Elon's posting offensive memes.	Lose 1 fan support
10	Quiet day, nothing happens.	Nothing
7-9	Your latest post isn't taking off.	Lose 1 momentum
2-6	Your fans rally around your latest post.	Gain 1 fan support Gain 1 momentum
1	You create a masterwork and people are raving about it. Everyone is ignoring Elon.	Gain 2 fan support Gain 2 momentum

Fan Support:

You start with 5 fan support, and it's capped at 10. If you lose all your fan support, you lose the game.

Elon's Attack Power:

Elon's Attack Power starts at 0. If it increases, add the total attack power to the d20 result, unless you rolled a 1. If Elon's attack power reaches 5, he destroys your social network site.

Momentum:

You start with 1 Momentum. As your posts gain strength, you can direct your fans to new sites to find your work. You win if your momentum hits 10. If you still have fan support when Elon destroys your social networking site, consult the table to see what happens.

Scoring Chart:

Momentum	Result
0-2	You are forgotten and spend years trying to desperately rebuild your fan base.
3-6	Your core fans stick with you wherever you go, but no one else does
7-9	While not everyone followed you off the implosion of your favorite social network, you manage to soldier on. It will take a year or two to get back to where you were.
10	You successfully migrated all your fans off the site to a new social network.
