

A desk lamp flickered suddenly, drawing dancing shadows on the wall. Two of these particularly were having the time of their life, as their projectors were lying on the floor next to each other. The pair was formed by Sherry, a Raccoon City survivor and her savior-turned-lover Claire, a brunette now working as a secret agent for a private force. Their relationship had turned sexual a few months ago, after a botched raid where Sherry came into contact with a new strain of a body modifying virus, that provided her with a few alterations, including heightened senses, enhanced feminine assets and finally, a specially thick cock which seemed to have a mind of its own, always getting erect in the worse moments possible. But that night was not a bad moment, in fact it was the perfect time for it, as she had booty called her friend to indulge in a session of pure devauchery.

Sherry's lips wrapped tightly around Claire's flaccid cock, her mouth so exquisitely warm and wet. The brunette agent woke up slowly, indulging in the unexpected sensations her lover worked so hard on, letting the warm tentacles of lust spread through every nerve of her toned body. It felt- No, Claire did not want to think how amazing it felt, but how could she not. Sherry's tongue worked the tip of her erect dick slowly, making sure to cover every inch available of her saliva, taking care of swallowing every little drop of precum that leaked out of her.

The sound of it, the wet slurp of her friend's tongue, of the drool escaping her lips and mouth as she slobbered over Claire's cock was the most satisfying sound she had heard in a while, but now it was not enough. With a primal growl Claire pushed Sherry's head onto her throbbing cock, forcing every inch she could into her troath, in and out, slowly fastening her pace until she found a sweet spot between quickness and deep. After a few minutes one of her hands wandered to her left breast, her nipple almost stiffening a second later when she started pinching it, caressing and massaging her breasts in the process, sending shivers to her spine which extended and enhanced her lust levels to a breaking point, making her push harder against Sherry's head, almost drowning her in her thick seed, until she felt her balls emptying.

Sherry crawled back to her lover, licking her lips and once at her level pulled her into a lewd kiss, letting some of Claire's cum drip back to her owner. Some minutes later she extended her attentions to the lower side of her companion's body, kissing and caressing her neck, biting her nipples carefully while jacking off slowly her big, fat cock. Claire, however was almost fully recovered, and much to Sherry's surprise she grabbed her by the hips, lift her enough to slide under her and shoved her already stiff dick into her aching, moist womanhood.

A jolt of pain and pleasure raced along Claire's body, forcing a shriek out of her as her former partner slammed her whole meat rod in her, not even waiting for it to be fully erect again. Sherry was practically acting by instinct, having lost her rational side a while ago, and now, slave to lust, she shoved her own gargantuan cock in between Claire's generous pair of breasts, trying to titfuck herself with one hand while forcing the brunetter's mouth on the tip of her dick, much to Claire's despair. Some minutes later the operation was succesful and soon Sherry found herself in one of her favourite positions as she was getting filled up to the brim at the same time her dick was being stimulated, bringing mixed pleasure signals to her overloaded brain. After what seemed an eternity she felt her dick throbbing in anticipation as something builded up in her at the same time a white spot appeared in her mind.

The orgasm hit her like a truck, knocking the blonde out in the spot after forcing Claire to deepthroat her when she felt her partner filling her a bit more, but not before making her enough cum to make the brunette's stomach bulge a bit. This was the end for Claire too, as her mind slipped away, exhausted after the long session they had shared, her body subconsciously embrancing her lover in her arms, falling sleep with her dick still inside Sherry.
