My SP is already at its limit. I have to finish this quickly. My mother has high perception, but she was already practically blinded by my continuous attacks on her face.

And realizing this, she started thinking about running away.

Suddenly, she teleported. But when she did.

She didn't get very far because of some interference. I don't know what happened, but I should seize the moment. If I kill her, I'll probably be able to reach phase two.

I'm sure of it.

And then, I lost my mind.

The only thing on my mind was, "Attack, kill. Attack, kill."

I approached my mother in a second. As if my body were being controlled by someone experienced in battle, I majestically avoided her thick, firm webs and reached her.

Her magic, which emerged from the ground, was avoided by me.

As if I knew it would happen, I moved upwards, using [Dimensional Maneuvering].

Then...

As if I were a bloodthirsty monster, all my legs started moving at high speed.

It was as if a meat grinder was grinding my mother's body. And as much as she tried to run away from me, I wouldn't let her do it. We started moving together at high speed, crashing into the wall.

But I didn't stop attacking.

And then, all of a sudden, I began to hear various grotesque sounds.

Looking away, I could see it. It was them. Lots of them.

Small ones, big ones, powerful evolutions. They were all the spiders my mother had available at the moment. But she was already practically dead, and I had to finish this. I started tearing her body apart while I ate her alive.

Bite!

Bite!

Bite!

And then, finally.

There were many notifications, and at the same time, I began to feel invigorated again. I began to feel an enormous power taking over my whole body. It was like I was the most powerful thing in this universe.

'HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA, THAT'S AMAZING.'

I didn't even mind the many spiders coming towards me to attack me.

I had reached my peak.

[Urednik pajka can evolve to Phase 2]

'Now things are going to start getting fun.'

####

The spiders began to approach at high speed, and then I teleported away. With my mother now dead, she wouldn't be able to control them. I can rest easy.

Now, I need to find Kumoko and then evolve.

Before that.

Many skills have increased levels, but the most important is the [Editing] skill. It didn't just go up one level... It went up TWO levels after I killed my mother. It makes sense.

She is an absurdly strong monster, after all.

'But my status and skill points went up a lot.' Ah, damn, my head hurts. But it doesn't hurt much... I have some protection. If I didn't have this mental protection probably provided by the God who brought me into this world, I'd have gone crazy by now.

Just like before.

For some reason, I went crazy, and all I could think about was killing my mother.

'Well, as long as I don't go crazy and kill my friends, I don't mind going crazy.' It's even better when I'm fighting strong enemies.

It's like my most primitive instinct is revealed... But my instincts fight much better than I do.

My movements became much smoother when I lost my mind.

'Right, let's stop thinking about that for now.'

Let's take a look at the Editing skills. It's gone up two levels. I've certainly unlocked a lot of new stuff.

[Editing LV5]

[Make edits to your Status and Skills]

[The user can edit 5 Statuses at the same time.]

[The user can edit their own SP and MP.]

[The user can make minor edits to other users' Statuses.]

'What? Isn't that frighteningly bizarre? I expected to be able to edit five statuses at the same time... But editing my own SP and MP? Don't I become invincible?'

That's if there's no limit. I still need to test it.

'But what about this?

The user can make minor edits to other users' Statuses.

I'll finally be able to make edits to other people's statuses. But it's probably just basic edits for now. But even so, isn't it amazing?

'But if I think about it... Don't I already do this with my familiars?

Well, let's see how it works later.

First, I have to find Kumoko.

It wasn't difficult to find her. However, when I saw her, her situation wasn't good.
