

"Here it is!" Dan said, proud of himself. "I'm sure the fraternity guys will be very pleased!"

Dan had just joined college, and to be accepted into one of the most famous fraternities, he had been challenged to steal a pair of panties from one of the nearby sorority members. After a few days of planning and research, he decided to take action on a Thursday night, when the sorority dormitory was always empty... Or at least he believed so.

"Well, well, well, what do we have here?" said a female voice behind him, scaring the hell out of the guy.

When Dan turned around, he saw not one, but seven girls!

"Looks like we found a big fan of panties" said another girl, smiling. "It feels soft, right, honey? I bet you're dying to put it on!"

"O-of course not!" Dan protested. "Alright, girls, I don't know how, but you got me! I'm here just because of a stupid challenge from my fraternity, but I'm leaving now, okay? There's no need to make a big fuss about it!"

"Oh, you're not going anywhere... At least not while you're still wearing pants. Girls, grab him!"

"What?!! What are you doing, you crazy bitches? Leave me alone!"

Dan tried to escape, but soon he realized that all the girls together were much stronger than him. Wasting no time, they cut his clothes with scissors, including his underwear!

"Oh, he has a cute, slim body!" said a brunette girl who later he would learn that was called Carol.

"He'll look so pretty when we're done with him! What's your name, cutie pie?"

Dan was so mad that he didn't say anything. Instead, he continued to struggle in vain to break free.

"Answer her now!" said a blonde girl named Kimberly. "Unless you want me to use the scissors to cut your little thing down there!"

"D-Daniel, my name is Daniel!" the guy said, frightened.

"Not anymore... Now you're Danielle, got it? Say that to us!"

"No fucking way!"

"I'm still holding the scissors..."

"Alright, alright! M-my name is Danielle! Are you happy now?"

"Not yet... But I'll be soon!"

Over the next few hours, Dan was subjected to a lot of embarrassing procedures. He had his whole body shaved, including his butt and private parts; his eyebrows were plucked and shaped; his red hair was styled; his face made up and his nails were polished; and he was forced to put on the pair of panties he was trying to steal – with his cock painfully tucked between his legs– and a matching bra.

"Ok, girls, you have had your fun! Can I leave now?"

"If you want to be seen all over the campus wearing only your pretty lingerie, sure, you can go!"

"This isn't fair! You need to fix my hair and face, and lend me some men's clothes!"

"There's no men's clothes here, silly! We're all girls... including you!" Kimberly said, and all the girls giggled. "You're staying with us for at least a few days, Danielle. For all intents and purposes, you're a new member of our sorority! We're really in need of a redhead, and I think you look so much better as a girl, anyway."

"What if I refuse?"

"Well, then be prepared to be expelled from college. Have you read the rules of this place? This kind of prank like stealing panties is strictly forbidden and can be severely punished because of some past incidents. If we report you, you're screwed!"

"B-but..."

"That's enough! Here's a nightie for you to use to go to bed. Tomorrow we'll start teaching you everything you need to know to be a girl! Welcome to our sorority, sweetheart!"

The girls weren't joking when they said they would teach Dan everything about being a girl. The very next day, he began to undergo an intense process of feminization. He was instructed about how to walk, sit, talk and gesticulate like a woman; he was also forced to diet, take vitamin pills, and work out with the girls every day.

Obviously, he had to wear women's clothing all the time – with small breast forms in his bra. He just hoped the girls would get tired of that punishment soon. He was missing a lot of classes, and he could hardly wait to be able to dress and act like a guy again.

Two weeks later, Dan was still in the Sorority's dormitory. Unfortunately for him, there was no hint that he would be released any time soon...

"That's it, Danielle!" Carol clapped. "You're finally sitting like a lady! And you're also getting really good at walking in high heels, girl!"

"Oh, C'mon, Carol!" Dan whined, using his new female voice. "My feet are killing me! Why do I have to wear high heels all the time? You're using flats right now!"

"Well, I had many years to learn how to walk in high heels! You, on the other hand, have to learn this much faster to be one of us. That's why, honey!"

"I can't believe I'm walking around the campus dressed like a girl!" Dan cried out. "I feel like everyone's looking at me! They surely know that I'm a guy in drag!"

"Don't be silly, Danielle" Kimberly said. "No one would think that a precious little thing like you is a man. I'm sure that not even you believe it these days. You look amazing, darling! The guys are looking at you simply because you are attractive. I bet all of them would like to ask you out! And the girls... well, they must just be jealous!"

Gosh, when will this nightmare come to an end? Dan wondered. I've been wearing skirts and high heels all the time! Not to mention all the hours I spent combing my hair and putting makeup on my face! And also those stupid breast forms that are now glued to my chest are driving me crazy!

I've even thought about just running away from college, but my folks would kill me! I doubt they would let me live at home again. My father always complained that I was too irresponsible, and sent me here for me to be a lawyer, just like him. If he knows I've dropped out of college so fast... I don't even want to think about it!

A few weeks later...

Holy crap, this can't be my body! How did I not realize how much I've changed before? There's no way all these changes are only due to working out! Those crazy girls must be giving me hormones or something! I even have boobs! I was forced to keep those fake breasts glued on my chest for so long that I didn't notice this was happening... And my cock... Christ, this looks so ridiculously small! Okay, this is over! I'm out of here, even if it means dropping college!

"No, Dani, I already told you that you're not going anywhere" Kimberly said. "You'll keep being a member of our sorority at least until the end of the semester! After that... Well, we'll see!"

"You can't stop me from leaving! And you know what, I no longer care if I will be expelled from college!"

"It may be true, sweetie" Carol said. "But you still care about your reputation as Daniel, right?"

"What you mean?"

"Well, we recorded your entire feminization process. We have hours and hours of video of you telling us how much you wanted to be a girl, and thanking us for helping you fulfill your greatest dream. You even claimed that you could hardly wait to get your first boyfriend! Do you want us to upload this on YouTube and share the link with everyone who knew you before?"

"I... I didn't know you guys were filming this! And I was forced me to say all that!"

"But you sound very convincing in the videos, Danielle ... I doubt anyone would believe your story... Now just accept the fact that you will be one of us for some time. If you're a good girl, maybe we can let you go back to being a guy by the end of the semester... if you still want it, of course! Now let's go out. You have an appointment at a beauty salon. There's party tonight, and this will be your official debut as a member of our sorority. You have to look perfect!"

Gosh, look what they did to me! With these hair extensions and dramatic makeup, I not only look like a girl, but a fucking hot one! And this dress they forced me to wear...

...This is so revealing! I still can't believe this is really me! A few months ago I was just an ordinary guy, but look at me now! How could this get any worse?

At night...

"Wow, it seems I just found the hottest girl at the party!"

"R-Rick! Oh man, thanks god it's you! You won't believe it, but I'm Dan! I was trying to get into your fraternity a few months ago, and you guys sent me to steal a pair of panties in a sorority dormitory. It went terribly wrong! The girls found me, and since then they have kept me captive! They're even turning me into one of them, as you can see!"

"Don't get your panties in a bunch, babe! I know very well who you are!"

"Do you? T-then why are you squeezing my butt?"

"That's because you're such a sexy chick now! The girls told me that you had changed a lot, and I even saw some photos of your transformation, but I just can't believe how great you look!"

"I d-don't understand, Rick! Did you know what was going on?"

"Not all the way long. But some time ago they came to me and told me everything. They wanted to make a deal."

"Deal? What deal?"

"They wouldn't report our fraternity for invading their dormitory as long as we agreed to let them keep you."

"You didn't accept that, did you? You would be betraying a member of the fraternity!"

"Don't be silly, babe! Technically you were never part of the fraternity. Your initiation test was to steal a pair of panties, and you obviously failed! So I guess you deserved your fate. From what I've heard, the girls have even managed to change your name and gender in college records, god knows how! You are now officially Danielle, a student of visual and performing arts!"

"Arts?! But I came here to study law!"

"Not anymore, honey. Oh and there's a last thing..."

"What now?"

"When I saw your photos, I made a second proposal to the girls. I promised them that our fraternity would never again try to invade their dorms if they allowed me to be your boyfriend..."

"M-my boyfriend?!! Why would you want that? I'm a man, for god's sake! Are you gay or something?"

"A man? With such a hot body and pretty face? I don't think so, Danielle. Now stop talking nonsense. It's time for our first kiss..."

THE END
