

Digging The Greats

“To Dig a Butterfly”

| Song | Artist/Remix | Relation to TPAB |
|--------------------------------------|--|---|
| Everybody is a Star | Sly & The Family Stone | 1969 - Predates the Boris Gardiner Sample |
| Oh Sheit It's X | Thundercat | Thundercat is all over this album, and this is a classic |
| Life is a Traffic Jam | Eight Mile Road | Jazz Expedition feat. Tupac, similar to “For Free?” |
| Seven Days of Falling | Esbjörn Svensson Trio | 2003 - Similar Harmony to what we hear on this album |
| Precious Possession | Anna Wise | She is featured on 2 songs on this album |
| Give Up The Funk (Tear The Roof Off) | Parliament | George Clinton Funk, big influence, and featured on the album |
| Curly Martin | Terrace Martin, Robert Glasper, Thundercat | These musicians are all over the album and had a huge influence |
| Come Get It | J Dilla, Elzhi | Dilla feel on multiple songs on the album, big influence |
| Return of the “G” | Outkast | Thematically similar to King Kunta and Hood Politics |
| It's Your Thing | Cold Grits | Drum Break from The Blacker the Berry |
| We'll Die | Thundercat | Another Classic Thundercat - Bass, voice, harmony |
| Presidential | Rick Ross | Produced by Pharrell, similar sound, predates “Alright” |
| Prologue | Kamasi Washington | Sax Player featured on the album |

| | | |
|--------------------------------------|--|--|
| Sing About Me, I'm Dying of Thirst | Kendrick Lamar | Song from Good Kid, referenced on "These Walls" |
| Them Changes | Thundercat | Another Great Thundercat song |
| Freeze Tag | Terrace Martin | More Terrace Martin and Robert Glasper |
| On Your Own | Lalah Hathaway | This song was sampled for "Momma" |
| So[Rt] | Knxwledge | This is the original beat for "Momma" that was made before TPAB |
| Keep Ya Head Up | Tupac | Tupac Inspiration - reference to "The Blacker the Berry" in the first line |
| The Revolution Will Not Be Televised | Gil Scott-Heron | Poetry and Music, proto-hip hop |
| All For Myself | Sufjan Stevens | Sampled on Hood Politics |
| Pyramid Song | Radiohead | Similar harmonically to How Much a Dollar Cost |
| Reminisce | Bilal, Mos Def, Common | Bilal is featured on multiple songs |
| Witchcraft (feat. Robert Glasper) | Terrace Martin, James Fauntleroy | Terrace, Glasper, and James Fauntleroy all featured on TPAB |
| The Payback | James Brown | James Brown (duh) plus "I can dig rappin" line is quoted in King Kunta |
| I Left My Heart in Ladera | Terrace Martin, Alex Isley, Robert Glasper | Terrace, Glasper, and Alex Isley, Daughter of Ernie (Isley Bro) |
| Lie To Kick It | Tupac | Kendrick references this on "You Ain't Gotta Lie" |
| You're Getting a Little Too Smart | Detroit Emeralds | These drums are sampled on "You Ain't Gotta Lie" |
| That Lady, Pts 1&2 | The Isley Bros | Sample on "i" - the climax of the album |