

Interaction 8 (part 1)

Tsul, Charlie, Callous, Ira, Iju

Another day passed with Callous and Charlie wandering about in search for Iju to no avail. As far as they knew, Ira was already eaten and wasn't a concern. With Tsul's powers, catching him off guard was essentially impossible for the two. You'd think it would be easy, having the giant of Callous to give more oversight than a dragon could fly with any weight. They had no idea that Tsul was keeping a careful eye on the two, seeing an opportunity arise within the remaining competitors. Tsul had kept Ira contained in his cock slit, still distracted by the constant moving of his and continuing to fight his erection from freeing the agitated boar from his containment. He had been ranking up dozens of points simply by being celibate and keeping Ira contained. He had been trying to sprint over the ground at high speed. Knowing that his opponents would be expecting him to be flying high due to his nature as a true dragon. Both duos were searching for one another, neither paying mind to the demon over their shoulder. And scheming which to corrupt with his power. Tsul, as a competitor, had no intention of winning in the end, insisting rather on having his own fun and corrupting his fellow competitors. In the meantime throughout this chaos, Ira was slowly getting accustomed to resting within the warm slit, finding himself hugging the cock of his captor with a soft smile plastered across his face. He felt almost protected by this containment, though not for long.

"Hello, oh Great Dragon, you. I come to you with an offering." Tsul started. He approached loudly, clearly not meaning to surprise the dragon with his approach. From this alone, Ira could hear the demon talk. Iju moved about, crushing the boar evermore from the inside as he turned to face the monster. The rest of the conversation was a blur to Ira.

“What do you want, fiend? I will not fall for your tricks!” Iju yelled demonstratively, growling as he stepped forward. The effort of intimidation fell on deaf ears as Tsul only grinned wider.

“Without my assistance, you will lose to Callous. Being his size, it is unfair for all of us other competitors. Just like Alpha... Speaking of which... Are you aware of the pred who disposed of such a behemoth?” He asked, his smirk not wearing down at all. This caught Iju’s attention, remembering the voice of Alpha in the last round. Iju glared at Tsul readily, seeing what he was getting at.

“And why would I listen to you? You would have nothing to gain from letting me digest that damned macro!” Iju growled again, though this time he had no intention of following up with a threat. Truth be told, he had no idea how he would work around the macro. He knew he had a decent amount of points but had no idea how many points Callous had. Tsul seemed to revel in the dragon’s curiosity.

“I simply want to level the playing field and have my fun during it! All I need from you is your compliance. I can fuse with you and make you strong enough to devour this competition as well as the next. Just swallow me and I can make all of your dreams come true!” Tsul smiled, stepping forward with open arms to the maw of Iju. With a grimace plastered across his face, he slowly opened his maw and accepted the free meal, fearful as to the intentions of the demon but low on options in the competition. What real choice would he have if he wanted to win this and prove once and for all that he is the superior dragon. As he opened his maw to its full width, Tsul readily climbed in, wrapping his muscled arms around the thick tongue and pressing his cock into the ridge. A moan of his now being breathed out into the throat of the dragon. Iju had little tolerance for this and reluctantly snapped his jaws shut, forcing Tsul to get along with the deal.

Admittedly, he'd be getting an additional 10 pointless regardless of whatever Tsul was planning, so he may as well take it in stride. As resistant as Tsul was to being swallowed before his humping, Iju was able to maneuver his thick body to the back of his jaw and swallow him slowly. He was able to swallow two people at once before, but the overall muscle of Tsul made his descent a lot tougher. Despite the massive coating of saliva, it was still a slow and steady descent, more than enough for Tsul to rub one out in his throat before plummeting into his stomach. While Iju thought he'd feel full, all he felt was hungrier. He patted his belly and found that the massive body of his meal did nothing for his belly. Admittedly he was a bit chubby to begin with, but with Tsul's body, it would have made a noticeable difference. He growled to himself, feeling more than deceived by the demon and now hungrier than ever after being cheated out of a meal. With this in mind, he noticed how he was feeling hungrier than ever. While he initially wanted to find Callous and Charlie out of his naturally competitive nature, he now wanted to find them out of hunger.

From the inside, Ira could feel his captor stirring around him. His enclosure warped with every clench and he felt his body liquify slowly. He tried to pull himself off of the cock he had been so delicately wrapped around. He could feel his own body now being pulled into his cock from the outside. He was ready to turn into semen once Iju had his fun, but here he is being taken in from the slimy outside without a word of acknowledgement. The more he disappeared, the more he noticed the body around him was so large and spacious. Albeit that he could have just been disappearing at an immense rate, but it seemed as though he was trapped inside the slit of a growing dragon, one that just had his cock enlarged to ginormous levels.

As Iju shot into the sky with flapping wings, his cock swelled up until it squeezed out of the slit, now much too large to fit inside the compact space. With fury in his eyes, Iju didn't even remember the boar he had in there. He instead flew at high speed to try and catch the large predator and have his fun with his pet. Tsul was still nowhere to be found.

3/12 remain!

Iju- +50

Charlie- 0

Callous- +25
