

Chapter 45 - Living alone.

A whole day had passed since Lukas had used the system to advertise his channel, and it was better than he had imagined. The video created by the system had gone viral, and his channel had gained over 50,000 subscribers in a single day.

"I'm already at 60,000 subscribers and the views and likes keep going up." In just one day, the number of likes had reached 60 thousand. Lukas decided to save it all to buy new skills.

Lukas opened his system, feeling quite excited about the growth of his channel and the absurd gain of likes. He was after a passive skill that could help him.

A skill that permanently increased his strength and agility would be great. If skills were combined with the items he bought, it would probably increase the Rank of his strength and agility.

"Right, let's see. Passive skills with an average price of 20 thousand likes. Speaking of which, can I gain skills in the gacha? It's probably possible." Lukas was willing to spend 40k likes on skills, and the rest he would spend on the gacha.

The first skill that interested him was called [Herculean Strength].

A Rank-B skill that would permanently increase Lukas' Strength by 10%. Yes, it was a significant increase, especially since it was permanent. The value of the skill was 20,000 likes.

[You have acquired the skill 'Herculean Strength']

"Yeah, great. Now a skill to increase my ability or my magic." Lukas rummaged through his system and found two interesting passive skills.

[Cheetah]

A skill that would increase your agility by 10%. Its price was 20,000 likes and Rank-B, like the skill [Herculean Strength]. Its Rank was high because of its effect.

Lukas thought it was cheap, but the next skill caught his attention more. However, the price was higher.

The price of the skill was 50,000 likes. The skill would increase his magic, not his agility. A passive skill that would permanently increase the user's mana.

Consequently, the magic Rank would also increase.

[You have received a new Like! +31]

"But the gain of Likes is high, should I wait a little longer to buy this skill? No. I'll 'save' this skill and buy it later. Let's go after a skill that increases my speed."

Lukas' fighting style utilized a lot of his speed, so it was best to go after a skill that would help him with that. He had already found the [Cheetah] skill to help him, but the system certainly had better skills.

He searched a bit more and found another skill.

"But it also costs 50,000 likes."

[Lightning]

Effect - Increases the user's agility by 30%

Rank - A

Value - 50,000

"Quite an interesting name. A 30% increase is pretty big. But am I not evolving too quickly? This class is really absurdly powerful." There were still a few more likes before he could buy the skill.

He would wait a bit longer since he didn't have much to do today.

Lukas just wanted to enjoy the momentary fame he had gained. He opened his Twitter and started making several tweets that started getting a lot of likes. His Twitter followers have already passed 20 thousand.

Every tweet from Lukas went viral.

####

Only an hour and a half passed, and Lukas had earned enough to buy the skill. With his 50,000 likes, he bought it.

[You have acquired the skill 'Lightning']

"I can already feel the difference." Lukas opened his Status to take a look.

[Name] Lukas

[Class] Media Player SSS (Single Class)

[Level] 20 (160/2000)

[Strength] - D (40%)

[Endurance] B (0%)

[Agility] C (80%)

[Magic] E (60%)

His agility had reached Rank C, but the rest of his Status had not increased. "I'm already at level 20. That's pretty fast progress." Usually, players would take longer to level up.

Lukas wondered if he could level up more quickly because of his class. His class may have decreased the amount of experience needed to level up. If so, he was delighted.

"And my skills."

[Skills Active]

[Deep Cut]

Effect - Penetrate your opponent's flesh more easily.

Rank - D

[Blade Creation]

Effect - Throw sharp blades using the movements of your dagger.

Rank - D

[Fast Movement]

Effect - Increase the user's speed by 70% for five minutes.

Rank - B

[Fire Storm]

Effect - Create a firestorm with 600C° and turn all targets within 20 meters into ashes.

Rank – B

And the passive abilities were only two. The two that Lukas had just bought.

"It's a great Status. I guess now I can go to the guild to raise my Rank so I can visit dungeons of higher Ranks." Lukas left his room and went downstairs.

It was almost night, so he would only attend the association tomorrow.

"Are you leaving?" His mother asked.

"No, I'm staying home today. What are you making for dinner?"

"I'm making macaroni and cheese and a mousse for dessert."

"Got it. I was going to order something to eat, but since you made macaroni, I'll wait a bit. Oh, and I wanted to talk to you and my dad about something."

"What? You don't want to leave your course again, do you?"

"It's not that." Lukas grabbed a glass of soda and sat down on the couch.

Lukas wanted to talk to his parents about him moving out. After selling his items, he gathered a good amount of money. He was looking to move out.

He had always wanted to live alone, and this was an opportunity. Plus, he wouldn't have to worry about being discovered if he lived alone.

But Lukas was sure his parents would not allow him to move out. But since he was 18, he would move out even if his parents didn't allow it.
