Daniel sat down on the decorative bench near the entrance to the zoo. He had to take off his jacket a minute after since the sunny weather proven to be overly warm apparently without a single gust of wind.

Daniel started reading the book he had with himself, but strangely his eyesight felt off. It was sharpening in the middle, while becoming blurry at the sides. The strange effect lasted for a minute and then stopped. Unbeknown to Daniel his eyes have turned wilder and green in colour.

Absorbed by the lecture the man scratched his head as it started to itch almost unnaturally. Some hair detached from his scalp the moment his fingers touched it. Daniel felt the strange tingling all over his body as all of his body hair started loosening and falling out.

Before Daniel managed to become completely bald the skin all over his body started to itch profoundly and the man tried hard not to start scratching himself like a madman. A pattern of orange fur with black stripes started encompassing his entire body. It started covering the parts of his body that previously had hair, but the fur didn't stop there and gradually covered the man's body in the light fuzz entirely.

Daniel started to sense that something was wrong when he was forced to sneeze abruptly. Almost at the same time an audible pop resonated from his nose as it flattened against his face slightly and the lower part started to turn triangular and pink.

Daniel's ears started twitching as new muscles formed at their bases. The cartilage slowly morphed and grew longer turning into decisively feline shapes. Long, stiff white hair started to puncture Daniel's cheeks from inside – His developing whiskers.

What crossed the suspicion line was Daniel's mouth, or rather what happened inside it. The man felt his tongue slowly turn rougher and rub against his teeth. One fell out and Daniel gasped in fear. The man instinctively spat it out from the initial shock and a few more clattered onto the ground in front of him.

“W-what the fuck is happening to m-me!? This can't be c-cancer, it's happening too fast. Ugh, f-fuck m-mhy theeeth!” – Daniel groaned as the remaining teeth fell out of his mouth as he spoke. It was almost painless and strangely Daniel realised that something brand new was forming inside his gums. Big, carnivorous fangs started to writhe out of the sockets and fill his mouth painfully.

With a yowl Daniel dropped the book and bent over. His head hurt as the man's skull started losing its human shape. It was growing longer and slightly flatter. Daniel was forced to open his mouth wide as his jaws started pushing out and stretching his face into a muzzle, which at least helped with the pain inside his mouth.

Daniel was panting hard, hardly believing his eyes and the sensations all over his body. The man was ashamed of his body changing so drastically, especially as it got rid of his human hair, teeth and now... Daniel's nails were throbbing and getting pushed out by harder and more deadly claws – The man realised.

The curved, long claws quickly replaced both his fingernails and toenails. Daniel took off his shoes and socks and revealed how his feet lengthened and turned slightly wider. The tiptoes changed the most as the toes relocated into a more paw-like alignment. The digits started changing shapes and fleshy pillows began to form underneath them.

Despite all the changes Daniel didn't even consider undressing fully, but it seemed like he didn't have a choice. He knew he was turning into an animal, but it was too drastic of a change to just accept it as it happened. The man sighed annoyed and decided to take off his trousers as his legs started shortening slightly and turning digitigrade.

It was a good choice as a throbbing in Daniel's tailbone meant signalled the growth of his developing tail. The vertebrae multiplied and the initially stubby tail got longer and started to sway madly from all the chaotic sensations. The growth slowly reached its full length and got fully covered in striped fur as well.

Daniel opened his mouth to comment on the fact that he grew a tail, but he didn't say anything, recalling how silly he sounded from now on. He just wanted the changes to end. His torso was reforming on skeletal level by now. The man got onto all fours and managed to tear his shirt off himself.

Daniel's shoulder blades were pulling closer to each other and locking his arms in more restrictive positions. His ribcage was barrelling out and his entire torso was becoming more streamlined along with its inner anatomy. Daniel's hips changed too and his underwear became overly tight around his groin.

It was either his shame or his junk. With an annoyed growl Daniel slashed at his underwear and saw it fall onto the ground in pieces. The changing man didn't want to look at it, but at the same time the changes proven to be overly stimulative not to.

Daniel's shaft became fully erect in seconds, yet something about it was wrong. It along with the testicles were migrating back, closer towards Daniel's tail. Daniel bit his black lip in shame as he saw his rod drift away, but that was just the beginning of the shameful changes back there.

Daniel's jaw dropped as he saw his proud manhood start to lose length. It shortened considerably and at the same time it changed its shape to become decisively feline. The tip became tapered and barbs started growing from the sensitive flesh. The foreskin retreated back, only to then regrow as an animalistic sheath. Daniel's testicles got pulled closer together in his sack as they too altered and turned rounder.

Daniel trembled in humiliation as he realised that his genitalia were now fully that of a male tiger. The only respite was the fact that they were somewhat hidden beneath his tail and fur. The transformation was slowly reaching an end as Daniel's arms turned into feline counterparts.

The man stared down at his changed hands. His fingers were becoming shorter and stubbier, a sort of webbing was forming in-between them. It was almost painful to watch as his changed fingers bent into unnatural arrangement, which however was adequate for the use of retractable claws that Daniel now sported. Lastly numb pillows of flesh formed underneath Daniel's paws and digits. Daniel's transformation into a tiger ended.

"One escaped, call for backup!" – Some man yelled out with fear in his voice. Daniel looked around in fear, everything felt way too real. He realised that his wish was one thing and the reality was something completely different. He didn't know whether he'd endure a life in a zoo enclosure.

Daniel got encircled by zoo staff that had tranquiliser guns with them. They all moved with expertise, but the tiger acted strangely submissive and docile. It didn't growl nor did it try to display that it would fight for its freedom.

The zoo staff was about to shoot at least one dart, but the feline department leader raised a hand and disallowed his team to do that. After a deep sigh the lead started approaching Daniel, which caught Daniel off-guard completely.

Daniel was happy that at least this man trusted him. Tranquilising was unnecessary and Daniel was taken to his new enclosure like a housecat. Daniel decided to give his new life a chance and unexpectedly to him it didn't prove to be bad at all at the caring zoo.
