Chapter 10: From Bouncing Babies To Bouncing Boobies In Just A Few Simple Clicks

Back in the lab – Conner had gone through every conceivable place he could look for an age changing device and was now powering on the computer. As soon as he booted it up he saw an icon for ‘Age Ray’ He clicked on it. A tutorial came up for the science behind an Age Ray.

“Boring! Come on, show me how to get one!” At the end of the tutorial he was prompted ‘Build one now?’ To which he enthusiastically clicked ‘Yes’. It then asked him the orientation. Conner scratched his head and clicked on the ‘help’ icon. A box came up showing him forward orientation with an illustration of a baby becoming a woman becoming a granny and reverse orientation showing the opposite transformation. He got excited and clicked ‘reverse orientation.’ And then ‘begin’. The whole room powered on; the babies pen’s lit up with a blue light and all the babies began crying.

Conner freaked out “I’m sorry babies. I’m sorry. I’m sorry!” He called out while watching the process bar on the computer screen fill more slowly than he would like. Finally it was completed and everything powered down. He opened the capsule in the center of the room and took out the new device. One of the babies was still crying so he put the device down and went over to her.

Conner had never really held a baby before he lifted up the round little infant whose head was covered in peach fuzz. He held her under her pudgy arms and swayed her in front of himself awkwardly.

“There, there, don’t cry...” Conner said. At that moment the door swung open and a ray blasted through the room hitting the baby he was holding. She grew instantly.

Wisps of blond hair appeared on her head and grew outward as her limbs stretched and expanded. The baby fat was quickly leaving her body as her shape took on that of a little girl. Her round little baby butt slimmed down and teeth appeared in her mouth. She kept growing. Her legs extended toward the ground and her torso stretched out. Her little baby belly thinned and her neck became more defined. She was a cherubic school aged girl in a matter of moments and continued aging still. Her deep blue eyes widened as she reached puberty and Conner observed her nipples puff outward and then the flesh around them inflate little by little. She was getting heavy to hold up and Conner's arms lowered until she was standing on her own two feet. Her lips became red and pouty and her hips widened a bit. Sparse hairs began to appear on her crotch between her lengthening thighs. She began aging through her teen years. Her breasts grew out into beautiful round orbs. They looked extremely perky with quarter sized pink nipples. Her bush filled out into a neat triangle of golden hair around her adult pussy. Her delicate face became more angular, her girlish features maturing into those of a grown woman. Her body toned and stretched until she finally ceased changing. Conner now found himself standing in front of a ravishing naked blonde woman in her early 20s. His hands still held her under her arms, around her smooth bare torso.

Both had only a moment to acknowledge what was happening before Dr. Gerasco fired again. Conner threw himself and the sexy former baby onto the ground. Her firm breasts pressed against his as she looked into his eyes with a mix of fright and lust.

Dr. Gerasco's beam hit another infant in her cell and she grew and matured breaking the small pen she had been cased in. A naked brunette woman sat in the remains of her broken holding area breathing heavily and stretching out her newly acquired long sexy legs.

"What are you doing in my lab!?" The doctor screamed, firing again in Conner's direction. Conner grabbed his device off the table and fired back toward the door.

The doctor's ray hit another baby lying on her back sucking her digits and the chestnut haired girl found herself surging through toddlerhood, childhood, tweendom and her teen years, her body growing, expanding and maturing until a gorgeous twenty one year old woman found herself in an oddly contorted position with her own bare foot in her mouth.

Conner didn't say anything. He just wanted to get out of there... maybe with a couple of these babies turned hot babes in tow. He fired at the doctor again. As he knelt up to aim at her she got a clear look at him.

"You!" She cried. "You're the idiot who hit my car the other day!" She fired several more shots around the room. One baby laying on her stomach found herself propelled upward as she reached her teen years as her new boobs expanded to larger and larger proportions. The raven haired beauty was literally being cushioned off the platform by her massive H cup boobs.

Another tow-haired baby that had received a double blast stretched and matured into adulthood. Her limbs and curves grew outward and her hair darkened as she aged. She was a full grown young woman sitting naked in her pen drooling onto her balled up fist as she continued aging into her thirties and forties. Soon a brown haired 40 year old naked woman popped her hand out of her mouth and looked around very confused. Her body had softened and wrinkled a bit but she still looked quite sexy and appealing as a mature beauty.

"You hit me lady!" Conner said, firing at her and inching around the room keeping the center table between them.

"At the time my device wasn't calibrated to affect the male physiology but now! Now!" She fired again several times indiscriminately. More infant girls in their pens found themselves aged gratifyingly into sexy grown women.

"Stand still so I can turn you to dust!" She yelled at Conner.

Conner continued to keep his head low and fired back toward her. He missed and hit the 40 year old sitting dazed on her platform. The woman's skin tightened back to that of a 20 year old and some blonde returned to her hair.

Dr. Gerasco fired some more, hitting the remaining infants and blasting them into young adulthood. Innocent baby girls laying on their backs drooling found themselves sexy curvaceous college age women wiping drool from their mouths.

“Gah! All my babies! You’ve ruined everything you idiot! Do you have any idea how long it took me to steal all of these baby girls from the maternity wards of surrounding hospitals? They’re the only things that will power my super computer!” The Doctor screeched.

As she looked around at the devastation, Conner took the opportunity to get a solid hit with his device. He aimed and hit the doctor square in the shoulder. The color returned to her hair and her shoulders straightened a bit. She turned to look at him now, a fresh faced girl out of college. She still wasn’t especially attractive but she was younger. Though not as young as Conner was hoping to make her. He looked down and saw that there was a gauge. He cranked it up a little and fired again but missed and took the chance to run for the door, the blonde woman he had held as a baby now hugged his waist, tightly pressing her nude body to him and not letting go. They ran up the stairs as the door opened and a score of naked women ran out chased by Dr. Gerasco. Conner and the former baby ran further up the steps and around a corner and stopped to hear if they were followed. The blonde woman immediately began to kiss Conner.

“You saved me. You saved me when I was a baby. Thank you! Thank you!” She squealed and kissed him as much as she could.

Conner pulled away. “Hey no sweat. We gotta get out of here though. What’s your name?”

“I don’t have a name. No one’s named me yet.” The blonde told him.

“That’s kind of hot. Well for now I’m going to call you Blondie, okay?” Conner told the girl. She smiled and nodded.

“C’mon Blondie, let’s see if we can put an end to all this craziness.” He declared as he grabbed her hand and ran down the hall.
